

The Fish escaped, the sculpture 'Poisson Rouge' shows the SeaDragon and a hook, hanging at the end of the hook: a goldfish. Gryphon hovers by the squares and circles nearby the goldfish, red scales and fins shimmer in the waters.

Gryphons are known for their love of precious metals and stones such as gold, rubies, and pearls. They are a combination of 2 noble beasts the eagle and the lion.

Having let Poisson Rouge go free. Gryphon travels from the waters to a cosmic world of circles and spheres, wearing silver and gold it enters the Bullring. The Bullring has tiered rows of stands; when the sun goes down the shadows project geometrical shapes. The full moon casts Gryphon's shadow on the ring.
